$MAXR Token:

$MAXR are designed to be utilized, and that is the goal of the $MAXR distribution. In fact, the project to develop Max Revive would fail if all $MAXR holders simply held onto their $MAXR and did nothing with it. In particular, it is highlighted that $MAXR:

- 1. does not have any tangible or physical manifestation, and does not have any intrinsic value (nor does any person make any representation or give any commitment as to its value);
- 2. is non-refundable and cannot be exchanged for cash (or its equivalent value in any other digital asset) or any payment obligation by the Company, the Distributor or any of their respective affiliates;
- 3. does not represent or confer on the token holder any right of any form with respect to the Company, the Distributor (or any of their respective affiliates), or its revenues or assets, including without limitation any right to receive future dividends, revenue, shares, ownership right or stake, share or security, any voting, distribution, redemption, liquidation, proprietary (including all forms of intellectual property or license rights), right to receive accounts, financial statements or other financial data, the right to requisition or participate in shareholder meetings, the right to nominate a director, or other financial or legal rights or equivalent rights, or intellectual property rights or any other form of participation in or relating to Max Revive, the Company, the Distributor and/or their service providers;
- 4. is not intended to represent any rights under a contract for differences or under any other contract the purpose or pretended purpose of which is to secure a profit or avoid a loss;
- 5. is not intended to represent any rights under a contract for differences or under any other contract the purpose or pretended purpose of which is to secure a profit or avoid a loss;
- 6. is not a loan to the Company, the Distributor or any of their respective affiliates, is not intended to represent a debt owed by the Company, the Distributor or any of their respective affiliates, and there is no expectation of profit; and
- 7. does not provide the token holder with any ownership or other interest in the Company, the Distributor or any of their respective affiliates.

Notwithstanding the $MAXR distribution, users have no economic or legal right over or beneficial interest in the assets of the Company, the Distributor, or any of their affiliates after the token distribution. To the extent a secondary market or exchange for trading $MAXR does develop, it would be run and operated wholly independently of the Company, the Distributor, the distribution of $MAXR and Max Revive. Neither the Company nor the Distributor will create such secondary markets nor will either entity act as an exchange for $MAXR

Welcome to Max Revive

$MAXR, a medicine for all fainted tokens

Buying memecoins comes with risks. The occurrence of investors being misled into buying meme tokens and afterwards getting scammed by way of rugpull or a dev going rogue, is an event that happens too often..

Sadly enough, in this space, a lot of the developers cannot be trusted. This results in the downfall of innovative and original ideas for projects. This happens because of an ego driven manifestation of the sin: Greed. The ability to remain completely anonymous online, thus leaving all sense of responsibility. This results in investments turning to nihility. A huge portion of investors are obligated to sell with huge losses, or are left holding a bag worthy of nearly nonexistence.

This was the case with the horrendous previous $miniSAITAMA. A great number of investors have lost an entirety of their initial investment. This proved how much this had hurt the community. It was decided to take losses at first, but this kept bothering the current team deeply. We gathered around and decided to relaunch $miniSAITAMA, with a strengthened community, a trusted developer and motivated owners. As more popular projects have been rugged, yet thrived after being revived. It had been decided the team was tasked and time to do the same and become the new team of the token that hurt us the most. However there was no such project that focussed on giving back to those in need rather than taking. Plans were being made to bring the revival to new heights:

The team had cooperated with a trustworthy developer with an established track record of building several successful projects. Together a new course was set for the project. Reviving lost investments from projects that experienced the same destiny. This would be done by staking named tokens together with the $MAXR token on what is called the Revival Hub. The Revival Hub is a part of the ecosystem that serves its users, brought to them by everyone else. Taxing the token is partly used to provide liquidity to the ecosystem, enabling the return to those in need. It had been decided to keep the name of the original token on purpose as a statement, so the developer could see the potential he threw away. With the huge success $SAITAMA had achieved, it was a free promotion as well, but much more than just a project named after a hyped token.

After weeks of development, building a bigger community, pushing marketing e.g. by buying the biggest billboard on Times Square, focusing on expansion, and even listing on an exchange(Lbank), the team has come to the conclusion it is time for a rebrand. Hiding in the shadows, bearing “mini” in the name has proven to obstruct building a good project. The prefix “mini” raises a natural impression of fear, uncertainty and doubt. This is opposed to the essence of the ideals of the token’s owners.

From this point on, we go by the name of:

Max Revive

Principles

Community

$MAXR is a community-driven token, focused on recovering suffered losses from those that have been rugged. Max Revive is open to suggestions for new ideas and innovations provided by the community. Being relaunched and taken over by the community, the project promises to provide back to the community.

Transparency

By striving to maintain full disclosure towards the users, the team ensures keeping everyone up to date with all the progress. Complete transparency is found to be a great necessity for maximizing the community's satisfaction. All promises made by the team will be manifested and provided to the community.

Security

Max Revive has the ambition to realize a secure, long term investment that will grow with its community. The launch will be stealth and fair, without a presale. The previous rug of $miniSAITAMA has initiated a relaunch and afterwards a rebrand. With a new team and providing utility. The team will provide the liquidity and it will be locked. All tax will be used for advancing the project in: Marketing campaigns, listings and further developments on the platform/website

Insurance

With a use case not seen before, Max Revive aims to give back to the ones in need. A platform is being built where one can stake now worthless tokens that have been rug pulled. With an additional token rating platform the aim is to index the scams. These can be found by the community itself, giving them a quest that will be rewarded. Tokens made applicable to be revived will be listed on the Revival hub. Making it possible for the victimized investors to claim a pay-out in our governance token ($FULL). This is only possible when holding a portion in $MAXR

Generosity

Returning to those that are in need is something that's greatly encouraged by Max Revive. Creating an opportunity to help those that are left with nothing is one of the key factors that are essential and how the entirety of the journey started. Max Revive aims not only to stop at helping the users of the platform but will also endeavour to donate to charity.

Revival Hub

The Revival Hub is a staking platform for rugged tokens. Investigating a so-called scam token/project enables the eligibility to be utilized on the platform.

One might wonder: How?

Thorough examination is needed before defining a token to be a scam. Evidence provided by the users will prove whether a token will be classified as a scam. A platform is being built that will simplify this classification. This platform allows users to share all sorts of data on a specific project. For example, launch dates, possible dev wallets, dead telegram chats etc. Several autonomous users reporting evidence for the scam are required.

A time limit for checking the eligibility of your tokens to stake on the platform will be initiated before approval. This means not everyone will be eligible to make use of the platform. This prevents users from buying a cheap rugged token and simply abusing our platform. Once the limit has been established and possible owner's wallets have been excluded, utilizing the platform can be initiated. This happens by staking $MAXR & solicited scam tokens both together on the Revival Hub. The ratio for $MAXR to be staked with respect to the amount of scam tokens, will be determined when listing on the Revival Hub, depending on the price. There is no turning back once the scam token is deposited. It will be permanent and not be given back.

The staking pool will be filled with the governance token Full Restore ($FULL) and will give the users a gradual payout over time. The more tokens staked, the higher the pay-out. Someone receiving all $FULL tokens will be prevented by setting a hard limit for the amount of tokens to be staked. It's built in a way that will make it fair for everyone to have a chance to return something from nothing. A check will be done post drain whether to refill the pool or not. If the liquidity from the scam token is still at a significant amount, the team will use the users' scam tokens to drain the liquidity pool and use that for buybacks on $FULL or refilling the staking pool

NFTs will also play a role in the utility of the Revival Hub. A number of NFTs were uniquely rewarded to holders in earlier stages of the project. Some of the holders obtained a NFT by holding or buying early, which enables them to return up to 50% more $FULL back on their investment.

Revive your rugged tokens by staking them on the Revival Hub!

Complete transparency is something what is striven for. Reading up on the platform in the last chapter could still raise questions on how the platform will work and what it would look like. For this reason, an example is given in form of a screenshot taken from the design of the platform. This will better illustrate the appearance of the platform.

Tokenomics

Tokenomics? Tokenomics is a term used to describe the economics of cryptocurrency tokens. It outlines the policies of the distribution and production that have been tokenized. $MAXR will become available for trading on Uniswap, one of the largest decentralized exchanges (currently ranked top 10th cryptocurrency) in the world. With more listings to follow in the future.

2,0 % is proportionally distributed back to the holders. Your investment will automatically grow the longer you hold. Loyalty is rewarded.

4% is sent to marketing wallet Marketing funds which will continuously be generated making future development and expansion possible.

2,5% is returned to the Revival Hub reserve, which will be used on the platform to realize the utility.

1,5% will be returned to the developer, which enables him to keep working hard on the project and ensures a seamless return on your rugged investments.

The tax on the governance token works a bit differently:

For each buy transaction, there is a 4% tax:

3% Is a fund that will be used to support charity for the most part and push more marketing.

1% Will be sent to a burn address, making the token deflationary.

For each sale transaction, there is a 8% tax:

6% Is a fund that will be used to support charity as well. Eventual marketing expenditure could take place.

2% Will also be sent to a burn address, making the token even more deflationary.

The governance token contract is also included with a special taxing mechanism that only activates in certain scenarios. It is made to make the token more suitable for buyers and prevent large dumps from happening. To minimize the impact of people abusing our ecosystem we will apply the following special taxing mechanics:

This is done by an adjustment of the buy/sale tax when one of these conditions are met:

- 10 consecutive sales
- A single sell off at least 500,000 amount of tokens

Buy tax will be set to 2% for next 5 buy transactions

Sell tax will be set to 16% for the next 1 sell transaction
